

W9NWI

Guidelines for Use

W9NWI is the amateur radio club station license issued by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to the Northwest Indiana DX Club (NWIDXC). The applicable FCC rules along with the club officers and license trustee govern the use of this license. Any use of this license without the express written consent of the license trustee is prohibited.

The NWIDXC encourages the activation and use of the club license. A member wanting to use the call should request it at a club meeting, or through both a club officer and the license trustee.

In general, permission for operation with the club license will be given to club members for legitimate and legal purposes. Some possible activities include:

1. Public Service
2. Public Safety
3. Emergency Communications
4. Special Events
5. Contests
6. Other uses deemed appropriate by the club officers and license trustee.

The use of the W9NWI club license has some minor FCC mandated restrictions. It is the intention of the club that these restrictions are complied with and that operations are in compliance with these FCC rules.

To apply for permission to use the Club license, contact the license trustee. Contact may be done by email.

The license trustee will need the following:

1. Purpose and type of operation.
2. Dates, times and location(s) of the operation.
3. Name and call letters of the club member supervising/controlling the operation.
4. Agreement to provide a copy of all logs in ADI format to the license trustee.
5. Agreement to comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

The FCC holds the license trustee, as an individual, solely responsible for the compliance to their rules and regulations; therefore the license trustee reserves the right to the final decision as to any issue regarding this license.
